Summer Term

We are full swing into our busy and exciting Summer term at Suffield Park Nursery. Since Easter we have welcomed some lovely new families to Nursery, along with lots of our children moving up into new rooms too, so lots of exciting changes for our children and they are all settling beautifully.

We have lots of activities happening this term - starting next week with celebrating the Queen's Diamond Jubilee. Children can wear red, white or blue clothing, or dress up as royalty if they wish. On Friday 27th May there is a special lunch on offer that day of an Afternoon Tea *Please make sure that you book this by Friday 20th May using the Google Form on Tapestry, or ping an email to the Office to book. This will be £2.30 as usual for a Nursery lunch.

School Reception places were offered out on the 19th April and for those children attending Suffield Park Infants in September, there will be a parents evening at the school on Thursday 23rd June, details to follow. Also there will be a transition day on Thursday 7th July which again, we will send more information to those parents in due course.

If your child will be attending a different primary school in September, do please let us know of any transition/play days that your child will be attending at their new setting so that we can help support and get them ready.

Hayley has been out buying lots of literacy resources over the past few weeks using the incredible amount of money that was raised during our Read-a-thon in the Spring Term.

If you get the chance, Norfolk Children's Book Centre at Alby is a treasure trove of books and we recommend a visit! Thank you again for helping raise much needed funds to replenish our books!

With the weather turning warmer, please don't forget to send your child with a named water bottle every day, apply sunscreen before their session, and make sure that they have a sunhat with them. Of course our weather can never be guaranteed, so make sure they have a raincoat and "closed toe" shoes at all times as the children are busy playing outside and in the woods, a named change of clothing is always useful too as many activities involve water.

Common childhood illness

Living with Covid-19 - As of the 1st April 2022 the guidance is, if a child has a positive test they will be advised to stay home for at least 3 days and return to nursery as long as they do not have a temperature and they are well enough to do so. If your child has symptoms of a respiratory infection - runny nose, sore throat or slight cough, they can attend Nursery if they are well enough to do so.

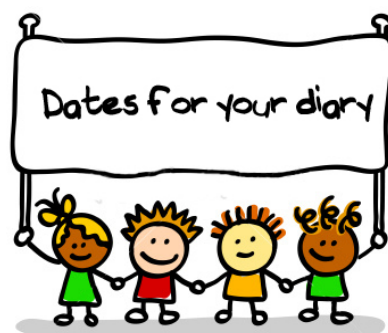

If your child has a high temperature (over 37.8.c) please keep them home until they are better and do not require any pain relief. Our standard policy is that children must stay off Nursery if any paracetamol or ibuprofen has been administered that day.

V&D - Can we remind you that with any bouts of vomiting or diarrhea that you keep your child home for 48 hours after the last episode.

Chickenpox - If your child has chickenpox (small watery blisters) please keep home until ALL of the spots have completely dried/scabbed.

We always welcome your feedback and will be sending a Parent Survey to get your views and suggestions about the Nursery. We constantly strive to do better and we appreciate your thoughts. Keep your eyes out for a Google form that will be sent on Tapestry shortly.
